The tax picture for Princeton may not be so darkly-colored as it originally seemed under Governor Brendan Byrne's proposals, supporters of his plan indicated this week. The picture lightens especially for Princeton Township, as a result of a proposed change in calculating school taxes.

As part of a selling campaign for the Byrne tax package, State Senator Anne Martindell, who lives in Princeton, joined by Kay McGrath, also a Princeton resident, spoke on Monday night at a meeting in John Witherspoon School held to explain and propound the Byrne plan.

They have previously addressed a Ewing Township meeting, and another meeting in Morris County. They met with Hunterdon County voters on Tuesday, in a campaign to touch base with major centers in the state's 14th legislative district, of which Princeton is a part.

As originally outlined, the Byrne tax package would have meant a tax increase for the Township, alone among all Mercer County municipalities.

However, as the legislature's Joint Education Committee on 'Thorough and Efficient Education' (called the Wiley Committee after State Senator Stephen Wiley, its chairman), began to study the Byrne package in detail, its members noticed something about school taxes in regional school districts around the state.

In some districts, school costs are shared between municipalities on a per-pupil basis, as they are between Borough and Township. In other districts, the cost is shared on a rateable basis.

Court Ruling. One of the reasons for the Byrne tax proposals in the first place, is that New Jersey courts have required the legislature to come up, by the end of this year, with a fairer way of financing public schools than the present local property-tax system, and also with providing every New Jersey child with access to a "thorough and efficient" education.

Because the courts have been so adamant about requiring fair-to-all education, Senator Wiley reasoned, they would never accept a tax law under which school districts shared costs on a per-pupil basis. This would, in effect, penalize a school district for having a great number of school children, and undercut the whole concept of equality.

Senator Wiley, with Governor Byrne's support, has proposed a measure (Senate bill number 1256) in which regional school costs are to be shared on the basis of valuations, not the number of pupils.

If adopted, this proposal means that the Borough would pay slightly over 37 percent of school costs instead of the slightly more than 25 percent it now pays. A plum, held out to reluctant Borough voters in 1966 when school merger was proposed, was per-pupil provisions of Governor sharing. Byrne's tax plan, the state takes over municipal and county welfare costs and the costs of the county court system. This is estimated to drop Borough taxes $322,000 and Township taxes $482,000.

PRINCETON'S TAX PORTRAIT: Shifts, changes, amendments and new proposals are part of any big legislative program like Governor Brendan Byrne's tax package, but at the moment, it looks as though Princeton Borough and Township will come out like the table shown here. Figures for this table and in the accompanying story were prepared by State Senator Anne Martindell's staff with the assistance of the state Department of Education and the Office of Fiscal Affairs.

Under the Wiley bill, the Township's general tax rate—that's the amount that appears on your tax bill—would drop by 20 cents and the Borough's would rise by 35 cents (see table, this page).

Borough Benefits, Too. However, Senator Martindell says, the Borough would benefit from other portions of the Byrne package. The state would subsidize towns that have publicly-assisted housing (the Borough has such housing, the Township does not; it is not known how PCH Village would fare).

Figures show that $49,766 would accrue to the Borough for its Lloyd Terrace, Maple Terrace and Clay Street housing. Also, the state would make up the difference between the sum paid by public housing to the Borough in lieu of taxes ($3,844.28 for Clay Street and Maple Terrace and $1,246.20 for Lloyd), and whatever the full property tax would be if the properties weren't public housing.

Under the so-called "municipal overburden" provisions of Governor sharing. Byrne's tax plan, the state takes over municipal and county welfare costs and the costs of the county court system. This is estimated to drop Borough taxes $322,000 and Township taxes $482,000.

"Princeton has an advantage because it's in a county which has an urban center with high welfare and court costs," Mrs. McGrath observed. She said a court case against the state is now pending, claiming that it's unconstitutional for the state to toss these welfare-court burdens to local and county governments.

Some School Aid Stays. Original explanations of the Byrne plan showed Princeton's school district losing $880,000 in school aid. Not all state school aid will be lost, supporters claim, because the Byrne proposals would pay 100 percent of busing costs instead of the present 75 percent.

Princeton pays more than 75 percent currently because busing is provided, for safety's sake, to areas not covered by state regulations.)

At present, school busing costs Princeton $205,000, of which the state provides $140,000. Under the proposed state school plan, Princeton would receive $196,000, Senator Martindell said.

She also pointed out that the state would pay all the cost of educating "exceptional" students, instead of only part of that cost, and she estimated that Princeton would receive $250,000 in state school aid, when bus and special student costs are combined.

What about the income-tax? Martindell-McGrath campaign figures show that in dividual families in Princeton, especially in the Borough, will benefit, especially in the Borough, where many middle-income families live.

The owner of a Borough house now valued at $20,000 pays $862 in local property taxes. The rate would climb to about $880 (see table). The owner of such a house earning $9,000 a year, would pay $93 in income-tax. At this level of annual income, the so-called "circuit-breaker" feature of the Byrne package is 6 percent: this means the house-owner's property-tax limit is 6 percent of annual income, or $540. The state would give credit for the difference between $540 and $880 ($340), and the property-owner would get back the difference between his $93 income-tax, and $340.
Renters Aided. Renters would get "circuit-breaker" benefits, too. A certain percentage of rent—whether 20 or 25 is still under discussion—would be counted as "property-tax" for circuit-breaker purposes.
If the figure ends up being 20 percent, a Borough renter paying $200 a month would theoretically be paying $40 monthly—20 percent of his rent—as "property tax." This comes to $480 a year.
If the renter's income were $7,000—which is at the 6 percent "circuit-breaker" level—the "property-tax" limit would be $420, so the renter would get a $60 credit—the difference between his "property-tax" of $480 and his legal ceiling of $420.
Renters can also take that 20 percent as an extra deduction on their state income-tax. And everyone, renter or owner, can list the whole amount of state income-tax as a deduction on Federal income-tax forms.
Not everyone, of course, qualifies for a "circuit-breaker." A Borough homeowner paying $880 in local taxes on that $20,000 house and earning $13,000 a year, would pay $202 in income-taxes. At that income-level, the "circuit-breaker" is 7 percent, which comes to more than $880, so this home-owner is out of luck.
The Byrne tax package would take 3 percent of the gross income, if you earn over $50,000 and the Assembly is considering increasing that percentage.

Business Taxes. Business, under the Byrne proposals, would pay a statewide property tax of $3 for every $100 of assessed valuation, with a credit of 75 percent of the local property tax.

For example, if the local tax were $3, you'd get the 75 percent credit from the state—$2.25—and would pay a state property-tax of 75 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, in addition to the local property taxes. That's about what Borough and Township business firms would pay.
Alternate plans to Governor Byrne's were touched on by Senator Martindell and Mrs. McGrath in a press conference held in advance of Monday night's meeting.
The state-wide property-tax would remove all local school taxes. The state would pay everything, on the basis of $1,400 per pupil for every pupil in the state. Princeton's $2,200 per-pupil figure (approximately) would then have to be made up by local taxes. Senator Martindell said the state-wide property tax system doesn't have a "municipal overburden" system to relieve towns of welfare and court costs, nor does it give "circuit-breaker" relief to lower-income families and renters.
"Levelling Down." "It is a 'levelling-down' proposal and would hurt towns like Princeton," Senator Martindell declared.
Assembly voting on a tax measure is scheduled to begin next Monday and to finish July 15. Then the measure, whatever it is, will go to the Senate.
Voters may be asked to pass in the fall on three Constitutional amendments: the 6 percent ceiling on local property tax-rates, the "circuit-breaker" concept and an amendment to make sure senior citizens now eligible for a $160 tax rebate, can receive that rebate and still get the "circuit-breaker."
Senator Martindell, commenting on the future on the Byrne package, observed that every candidate, Republican and Democratic, in this legislative district in the past 20 years, has campaigned for an income-tax.

In Township. A top-priority bike path for school children, another bump in the road for PCH Village and a possible ordinance concerning shopping carts were part of Township Committee Monday night.

The $6,300 bike path-sidewalk will run along the east side of Snowden Lane between Wheatstheaf Lane and Nassau, providing safe travel for Riverside-area children after the Riverside-Snowden-Nassau traffic signal is installed. Public hearing July 15.

Underground electricity and water mains have been planned for Bunn Drive to serve PCH Village at the end of the road. But Galpur, Inc., 375 Ewing; American Can on North Harrison and the M.T. Lucas Company with vacant land on up Bunn Drive, all protest the Township's plan to finance these utility installations by assessing property-owners.

Leroy Purvis, Galpur's president, said the new installations should be paid for from the public purse because they will benefit only PCH. Sheperd Gurion, lawyer for American Can, said PCH itself should bear the entire cost. W.D. Didrich for M.T. Lucas, urged deferment of all assessments until the sewer moratorium has been lifted.

by Borough police with the attempted armed holdup of Grover C. Tash, 33½ Lytle Street, June 7 outside his liquor store on Lytle. They have a detainer for his arrest.

At the time of the arrest, Township police seized about $1,800 in cash, Chief Frederick Porter, reported, and a ring of keys that would open National Cash Registers. Chief Porter revealed that there are four detainees from West Windsor police and from other police departments throughout the state who are investigating the suspects in connection with other robberies.

Ptl. Gaylord was at a Route 206 service station at the intervention of 318 when he noticed the suspects' car traveling south with temporary Pa. plates. A police wanted alarm for the 1969 Oldsmobile had been broadcast four days earlier. The car and its occupants were wanted for questioning in connection with the June 7 theft of $1,215 from a locked cash register at the Acme Market in the Princeton Shopping Center and for a register theft at the Thriftway Market in the Montgomery Center, Rocky Hill.

Ptl. Gaylord and an attendant gave chase in a service station truck which contained a citizen's band radio, linking it to the station; the station had an open line to Township headquarters where another attendant relayed

It should not take July long to dim the memories of the cool and often wet weather that was with us most of last month. Temperatures will climb into the 90s, thus giving a good chance for thunder showers, but hopefully these will be short in duration.

pursuit information it received from Ptl. Gaylord. Ptl. Harry Morton radioed Borough police requesting a road block. It was erected at Bayard Lane and Avalon by Sgt. Thomas Michaud, Det. Timothy Huizing, Ptl. Charles Harris and Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm. During their investigation, Township police learned that the A&P Store in the Shopping Center had just been robbed of $768.

"This is an example of some good police work by Ptl. Gaylord," Chief Porter commented. "I think he should be commended for his observation."

Other Township officers taking part in the arrest and investigation include Lt. Michael Lisi, Detectives Anthony Bianco, Norman Servis, Anthony Pinelli and Frank Bocciafuso, Sgt. David Potts and Ptl. William Potts.

Against Jamesburg Youth. Edward G. Fitzell, 18, of Jamesburg was arrested at 5:40 last Wednesday morning on Harrison Street near Prospect by Ptl. William Fitch who issued him a complaint summons for loitering and being under the influence of alcohol.

Det. Timothy Huizing charged Fitzell with possession of under 25 grams of Marijuana. Released in his own recognizance, he is scheduled to appear in court July 17.

Another Arrest. Larry Copper, 18, of Shirley Court was arrested early Saturday morning by police and charged with possession of stolen property and trespassing on the Princeton University campus.

Police were alerted at 1:15 by a call from University proctors who reported chasing three men from the campus onto Nassau Street following a break-in and larceny at Wilcox Hall. Police said an office and freezer there had been broken into.

During the chase, the suspects dropped a radio and a box of ice cream. Copper was picked up from a description supplied by the proctors. The other two suspects were not apprehended.

petitions, but withheld

the facts."

The amphitheater, which could seat 2,500 spectators, is advocated by the New Jersey Historical Drama Association.
That group would like to see the outdoor theater in operation by 1976, so that it could become the showplace for a major Bicentennial-related dramatic production.
Opponents claim the amphitheater would increase traffic and threaten to turn West Windsor into a tourist center. The opposition is centered in West Windsor and Hamilton townships, where the Mercer Park is located.

A fund-raising drive is planned by the opposition so that a lawyer can be hired, if necessary, to handle possible court action aimed at stopping the project.

The Park Commission and the West Windsor Township Committee were scheduled to meet in executive session Monday to discuss the proposal and its opposition. A public hearing was expected to be scheduled at a later date.

DIRECTOR NAMED
For United Fund. Fred Fields, 25 Parkside Drive, has been named acting executive director of the Princeton Area United Community Fund by the fund's executive committee.

Mr. Fields replaces George Peters, who recently accepted a position as executive director of the Pasadena (California) Art Museum.

A selection committee has been appointed to begin the search for a new executive director.

Mr. Fields is chairman of the 1974 Princeton Area United Fund campaign, and will direct fund raising activities for the drive that is scheduled to get under way
October 1.

Fred Fields

He served as chairman of the data processing and management planning division for the 1973 campaign, and has been active in the Princeton Area United Fund for the past 14 years, serving on various committees including the eligibility and admissions committee, which has responsibility for reviewing requests for admission into the United Fund.

Mr. Fields has also been a member of the board of directors and was treasurer of the Community Guidance Center (formerly Child Guidance Center), one of the 21 member agencies to the United Fund.

Prior to accepting his new position, Mr. Fields was associated with the State of New Jersey Departments of Transportation and Labor.

ADDRESS CHANGE MADE
Lawrence to Lawrenceville.
More than 4,000 Lawrence Township residents who now have a Trenton mailing address may, within a year or so, acquire a Lawrenceville
address. Those Lawrence Township residents whose mail is sent by way of a Princeton address will retain that designation.

Those changes reflect the majority opinion of Lawrence residents polled recently by the U. S. Postal Service. After some deliberation over whether or not the 75 percent majority in favor of changing from Trenton to Lawrenceville was "substantial" or not, the Postal Service decided last week that it would make the change.

A verbal promise was conveyed from postal officials in Camden to Lawrence Township Manager George Gottuso. The Post Office promised it would begin the changeover in either January or February of next year, with a goal of changing all the addresses by next July 1.

The post card balloting, which was conducted early last month, was the second time Lawrence Township residents had been polled on their preferences of addresses. In a non-binding referendum on last November's ballot, Lawrence residents voted four-to-one in favor of using a single address for the entire Township.

Postal officials, however, said they wanted to query just those residents affected by such a change. That necessitated the post card ballot.

CHARGES DROPPED
Against Robin Peters.
Borough police last week
reported that Robin D. Peters, 18, 44 Dodds Lane, had been arrested and issued a summons for allegedly making annoying telephone calls to an Allison Road resident.

This week, Chief Michael Carnevale reported that two Township juveniles, age 15-16, have been charged with making the alleged calls and that the charges against Mr.
Peters have been dropped.

NAKED YOUTH ARRESTED
On Hodge Road. A 17-year old Borough resident was arrested by Township police a few minutes after 3 Sunday morning after a Hodge Road resident called to report that there was a young man out in the front yard with no clothes on.

The youth was arrested by Ptl. Jerry Offredo and Ptl.
James Vandermark of the Township and held for Borough police who charged him with open lewdness.
Borough police were investigating an attempted breaking and entering at the time of the call and requested aid from Township police.

Flemington Man Charged. A Flemington man was arrested
Friday afternoon on Chambers Street near Avalon by Det. Timothy Huizing who charged him with open lewdness.

John Maddelena, 42, was later released in $100 bail pending his appearance in Borough court July 17.
According to Chief Michael Carnevale, the alleged incident took place on June 20.
The victim, he said, had the presence of mind to provide police with a description of the car and its license number.
"That was the single most important thing that led to the arrest," he said.

LIQUOR IS STOLEN
From OK Bar. A pint of scotch and eight six-packs of beer were stolen from a display case last week at the OK Bar on Lytle Street.

Police said that a rear door had been kicked in to get inside. The theft was discovered by a neighbor.

A $70 radiator and a $20 air filter were stolen from a car parked in the Lawrence Apartments lot in the Township. Police identified the owner as Wayne Warren, who told them that when he started his car in the morning he noticed that the engine didn't sound right.

A 24 by 48-inch car wash sign listing prices and valued at $40 was stolen last week from the Princeton Car Wash, 350 Alexander Road. Ptl.
Howard Sweeney investigated the larceny and malicious damage at the site in which a smaller "no-parking" sign

TRENTON PAIR CHARGED
In Shoplifting Incident.
Gregory McWhite, 20, and Debra Ann Middleton, 19, both of Trenton, were charged with shoplifting three halter tops valued at $56 last week from Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

The two were observed by Patricia McNaughton of the store's security department. The articles were allegedly concealed in a handbag. Miss Middleton was charged with aiding and abetting, McWhite with shoplifting. Both were later released on $25 bail each, pending their appearance in Township court scheduled for this Wednesday.

MAN, WOMAN CHARGED With LSD Use. A Nassau Street man and woman were charged with possession and use of LSD Sunday by Borough police.

Released later in their own recognizance to await a hearing August 7 in Borough Court are Alan Collins, 22, and Barbara Gourlay, 20, both of 172 Nassau Street.

Sgt. Robert Anderson, Ptl. Ronald Holiday and Ptl. Victor Fasanella responded to a 3:02 p.m. call for aid, saying that someone had taken an LSD trip at the Nassau Street address. Police took the couple to Princeton Medical Center where they were treated and then returned to police headquarters.

Police said that Miss Gourlay was the one who had called for help.

TURNTABLE IS TAKEN From Nassau St. Office. A stereo turntable was taken last week from a file cabinet in a back room of the offices of Gund Investment Corporation, 14 Nassau Street. According to police, three boys walked into the second floor office of Gordon Gund and roamed around, diverting a secretary's attention. A short time after they left, the turntable was discovered missing.

Attempted Entry Fails. An attempted breaking and entry at Iris, a women's apparel shop, 12 Spring Street, failed when the intruders were apparently frightened off by an alarm. The rear door had been kicked in.

Sgt. Thomas Procaccina and Ptl. William Fitch sped to the scene after an alarm for the address sounded in Borough headquarters at 2:29 Sunday morning. However, by the time the officers arrived no one was there. The alarm went off when the door was kicked in, police said.

"DISAPPOINTED"

Princeton High Principal, "We're all quite disappointed in the defeat of the referendum," said Princeton High School Principal George Petrillo this week, "because we really recognize the need for major renovation of the school. But we know it's tough to ask people for money in times like these."

Mr. Petrillo said he thought the referendum was defeated by the "spectre of the Byrne tax proposal" and the economic situation generally.

"People who voted against the referendum have told me they did recognize our need, but they were stuck in an economic squeeze. These weren't retired people, or people on a fixed income—just people in an average Princeton income range."

"Even the flyer opposing this particular bond issue, recognized the need," Mr. Petrillo added.

The principal, members of the school board, some administrators and architect J. Robert Hiller held a meeting Monday to analyze the defeat and start talking about the next step.

OFFICERS ELECTED

For Youth Center. Four new officers have been elected to the board of the Princeton Youth Center to serve with board president Albert Hinds, elected earlier in the year.

The Rev. Floyd N. Rhodes has been elected vice-president and Bernadette Yeager as secretary. The newly-elected treasurer is Mimi Moore and the assistant treasurer—a new post on the board, designed for the training of young Center affiliates for future board positions—is Charlene Madden.

For the summer, Terrie Austin will be in charge of cultural and arts events at the Center, including workshops in singing, drumming, dancing and arts and crafts. Workshops are open to all ages.

John Bailey will be recreation director. His program, "Discovery" will begin next Tuesday for Center members in the five-to-thirteen age range. Young members of the "Discovery" program will, in the words of Center officials, "extend their horizons" by visiting museums, chatting with Princeton's police chiefs, and so on. The program is designed as a replacement for the former activities of Community House.

On Saturday, July 20, the Center will hold a "Black Block Party" on John Street under the direction of Mrs. Eric Craig. The "Matadors," a drill team from Trenton, the Center's Ajile Dancers under Ms. Austin, and a rock band will be on hand. John Street will be closed off for the event.

CBD HEARING HELD

Vote Later in July. Central Business District plans are only guidelines; the real "bite" of any master planning is in whatever changes are made in the zoning ordinance. These were the assurances given last Wednesday by members of the Princeton Regional Planning Board as they held a full-dress, full-scale, formal public hearing on their proposals for the CBD. Past hearings have been "briefing sessions," designed to elicit from shopkeepers and shoppers, property owners and renters their ideas on what the center of Princeton should be like.

After a possible second session this month, the board will vote in public session on whether to approve, disapprove or amend the CBD Master Plan.

"This is purposely NOT a detailed development plan," explained board vice-chairman Norman Williams. "We want to know what kind of CBD you want. Individual parking, such as the Pickering building has? Public parking? Parking in tall buildings? Underground?"

Mr. Williams also made two points at the start of the hearing. One: "favoritism" toward the University "had very little to do with the primary open space of the area—it just happens to be owned by the University," and two: the responsibility for parking should be shifted from the property owner to the municipality. Present regulations have stifled development of the CBD, especially where restaurants are concerned.

Another New Hope? A puzzled resident, Walter G. Farr, 7 Bayard (at the corner of Greenholm) asked whether the CBD plan was "another attempt to compete with shopping centers." He expressed gloom over the possibility that Princeton would turn into a "Saturday tourist attraction a la New Hope."

"I am skeptical about the success of the plan, and if it is successful, will it make Princeton less attractive because more shops and more parking will bring more traffic?" he said.

Denise Reed, of the Borough's Environmental Commission, declared stoutly that she had faith in the effectiveness of Princeton to compete with Shopping Centers.

Two long-time Princeton businessmen spoke for the plan. Leonard LaPlaca, owner of Nassau Interiors, said Princeton needed more shops to give shoppers a multiplicity of choices.

"We have a healthy men's-wear situation with several shops and multiple choice that brings people here to shop in several stores. We have only one hardware store now: we used to have three."

"You talk about big shopping-center competition," he added, "it's the little centers, like the Marketplace and the Montgomery Center and Princeton North—those are the ones that are cutting in to Princeton, not the big Macy-type."

Complete Palmer Square. Everett Garretson, whose family owns H.P.P. Clayton's, urged completion of Palmer Square and the addition of retail shops "in an attractive way."

"Those present parking-lots are an eyesore, and in the long run, they must be built on," he declared. "Give the University a chance to build and the sooner the better. We shouldn't compete with the big shopping centers—let's keep the character we have."

Mr. Garretson also said Princeton needed luxury apartments, and he suggested the CBD-Palmer Square area as a good spot.

But Robert Landau, of the Nassau Street store, protested that more stores would indeed change the character of the town. He said he had the uneasy feeling that he and other stores were being "moved like pawns", and he asked why the hearing was being held at all.

It was in reply to Mr. Landau that Mr. Williams said the plan was a guideline only, and that the hearing was held to find out what kind of CBD people wanted.

Albert Toto, who owns a market at the corner of Witherspoon and Avalon, told the board that a supermarket "convenience" store in the Palmer Square area wouldn't enhance the vista. He also spoke with pain of his store's former designation as a "post office" on the long-ago CBD proposals prepared by Charles Agle, but not on the current plan. Mr. Williams assured him there was no thought of taking Mr. Toto's property or any other in his immediate neighborhood.

Mr. Williams told the standing-room-only audience that the proposed CBD development was better than allowing owners to build now, what they are legally entitled to build, and he added, "It's a permanent threat to everyone downtown, to have that permanent blacktop. We want to get something there to prevent something much worse."

And William H. Walker II, CBD sub-committee chairman for the planning board said, "I'd be delighted if parking garages never had to be built, but we must reserve the land for them in order to backstop the CBD's economy. We won't build these garages tomorrow by any means."

BIRTHS LISTED

Nineteen Are Born. The births of 13 boys and 6 girls were reported last week by the Princeton Medical Center.

No Post Office?

No sub-station in the Township, anyhow. Postmaster Basil Ferrara said with regret this week that the Township sub-station he had hoped for by July 1, just didn't materialize.

Jack Petrone, owner of Center Sports in the Princeton Shopping Center, bid for the sub-station, Mr. Ferrara said, but his bid was $3,500 higher than the Princeton post office's budget. Mr. Ferrara declined to give the exact amount of the bid.

The postmaster still hopes for a station in that area of Princeton, and he said that Township Mayor Jay Bleiman and Committee member Barbara Smoyer are still "negotiating" to find a location.

News Of The THEATRES

"BLANKET" CONCERTS
 Next: July 10. Blankets, folding chairs and, depending on the weather, rain ponchos, are as important as a violin bow for the outdoor concert series now under way in the North Court of the Graduate College. In case of heavy rain, concerts are given in Proctor Hall of the Graduate College.
 Next Wednesday, July 10, at 8:30 the concert will be given by Richard Goode, piano; Robert Martin, cello and Jayn Rosenfeld, flute. They will play from the works of Hymmel, Franck, Prokofiev and Haydn.

Mr. Goode performs regularly with the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, and is winner of the Clara Haskil International Competition for young pianists. Mr. Martin was member of the Fromm Quartet at Tanglewood and was soloist in the Stravinsky Festival in Philharmonic Hall. He is professor of philosophy at Livingston College, Rutgers. Miss Rosenfeld has played as first flutist and soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra in Philadelphia, and has played with the American Symphony Orchestra and the Master Virtuosi of New York.
 The Summer Chamber Concerts are open to the public without charge and are supported entirely by the community. The first concert, given June 26, was by the Tokyo String Quartet.

BOO!
 "Charlie Chan," "...at the Opera," no less. The 1936 film about the Great Detective stars Warner Oland, battling with arch-fiend Boris Karloff, will be shown next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the University art museum under Summer Intime's auspices.

On Tuesday, Intime will continue its early-week films with "The Solid Gold Cadillac," from 1956. Judy Holliday, Paul Douglas and Fred Clark star in this film, which is based on the George S. Kaufman play.

Wednesday, July 10, Intime will screen "Pygmalion," the Leslie Howard, Wendy Hiller film version of Shaw's comedy. Shaw himself wrote the screen play (he got an Oscar for it), and later, assuming the mantle of critic, declared "Everyone should see 'Pygmalion' at least 20 times!"

STREET THEATRE...

Casting and Rehearsing. Auditions for Street Theatre's production of its three prize-winning plays, will be held next Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Dorothea House (Avalon and John) in Princeton.

There are 25 parts available in the three plays, and auditions are open to anyone from seventh grade up. Additional information may be obtained at 921-8750.

The winners of the 1974 contest are "Paradise," by Geoff Becker, a short play about different concepts of heaven; "The Mysterious Case of the Maltese Peacock," a satire on detectives by Lee Wittenberg and John Mochel and "Garbage," a play by James Beckerman about a possible solution to the gasoline shortage.

Katie Grimm will direct "Paradise," Jon Negus will direct "Maltese Peacock" and James Beckerman will direct his own play, "Garbage."

We Need Truck! Street Theatre is still in desperate need of a truck and driver to pull its mobile stage-trailer. S.T. will pay $100 to anybody willing to spend the evenings of July 15-21, August 5-11 and August 19-25, pulling the trailer to rehearsal and performance locations in the Princeton area. Call 921-8750 or 921-8826 if you can help.

"Cactus Flower," playing the week of July 15, is the first S.T. production of the season. Liz Rothberg, John Wible, Nancy Bartels, Rip Pellaton, Shelly Powsner, Phil O'Donoghue, Bob Ayling, Kathy Lo, Joan Myers, Debbie Pehla and Greg Davidson are in the cast.

Miss Smith will also read the part of Margaret Morris, a lady from Burlington, who observed in her diary, "...from the present appearance of our ragged troops...the British...will be seared at the sight of our men, for as they never fought with naked men the novelty of it will terrify them!"

The production is under the direction of Harold Hogstrom, chairman of the speech and theatre department at Trenton State College, who will read the lines of John Adams, Peter Kalm, William Livingston, Francis Hopkinson, Philip Freneau, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Paine.

Christopher Myers, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Myers, will sing "Little Boy Blew" with Rudy Starr, alto singer in the group.

Narration will be by Dr. Myers, who has been active in radio and television, and who participated as a singer in the Broadway production of "The Golden Age." Costumes for the production are by Donald White.

The summer productions of Yankee Doodle Fought Here are sponsored by the Washington Crossing Association of New Jersey. The show will go on tour in September and will be presented before 56 school and community audiences throughout New Jersey, supported by grants from the New Jersey Historical Commission. Admission for the performances in the Park is $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for students under 12, with children under 5 being admitted free.

WE OPEN WITH....

Bernard Shaw, "Arms and the Man," one of Shaw's most popular plays, will open Summer Intime's summer theatre season this Thursday with an 8:30 p.m. performance. It will play again this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and the following Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, all in Murray Theatre on the University campus. The Sunday curtain is 7:30 p.m.

The play takes place in the Balkans in the 1880s, and it's about a mercenary soldier in the Balkan wars who takes refuge in a Balkan lady's bedroom. Starting there, Shaw comments wittily and wickedly on romantic love, romantic wars and the hypocrisy of romantic chivalry.

Summer Intime's

production, directed by Daniel F. Berkowitz, features Anne Louise Hoffman, E. E. Norris, John C. Vennema, Alice White, Richard Ferrugio, Kimberly Myers, Robert Schmon and Michel Ivers.

Charles Stone and John Paine have designed the sets, and Marie Miller and Gretchen Bullock the costumes. Lisa Burns is stage-manager.

To Us

EIGHT SHOPS IN ONE
At Tomato Factory. Starting with little more than a floor, supporting beams and burlap-covered walls, George Broome and Jerry Harnyk converted the loft above The Tomato Factory into an attractive antiques center of eight different shops.

Messrs. Broome and Harnyk decided to give up their antiques store in Mt. Airy and begin the Hopewell Antiques Center for a variety of reasons. They felt eight shops together would give the public a greater selection; each shop increased exposure; and by sharing the sales responsibilities each dealer would be free for his necessary antique searches.

While each shop is separate, the greatest emphasis is probably on American primitives. As you wander through the loft, there is country furniture, kitchenware, Victorian wicker, quilts, baskets, china, and much more including some touches of nostalgia.

We began on the left with Joan B. Lehner's shop and worked around to The Back Porch. Ms. Lehner is well known for her quilts and she has hung on the slanted ceiling a beautiful one with a multi-colored pastel star pattern.

In this shop we also saw a framed sampler by Charles, aged 13, $24; an early rare copper dry measure, $60; a lovely crock made by Tyler & Dillon of Albany, N.Y., around 1826, $45; a long rope of sleigh bells, $60; and a small Meissen cream pitcher with a blue and Chinese red floral design, $18.

Next we came to The Company Store, which has some handsome American primitive furniture such as a chimney cupboard from a country kitchen. This tall cabinet with upper and lower doors once fit snugly beside the chimney, but would probably no longer be consigned to the kitchen, $375.

Rustic Atmosphere. The rustic atmosphere of this store has been set by using an old door frame and mantle, and the smaller pieces are in keeping. For instance, we saw painted tin boxes, $60; an old unusually long black and white decoy, $110; a wooden lap desk, $20; and Moravian tiles.

These tiles were made of local red clay during the 1920's at the Mercer Tile Works in Doylestown, Pa., and they come in a range of designs and colors, $6 to $18.

A 1940's juke box with all the lights sets the theme of the "Sol a un Garage" where you can find a little bit of everything. Some of the current treasures we noted were a Howdy Doody cookie jar, $24; a 1930's art deco ceiling lamp with white glass, $24; and a working neon sign from a Bendix Automatic Home Laundry.

"Sol a un Garage" also has old-fashioned toys; a framed picture of three bulldogs, $2.50; wooden cigar boxes; a doll-sized metal ice cream parlor chair, $35; and a marvelous wooden display rack for Brown's tested seeds that would be an ideal gardener's workbench, $78.

Wicker Furniture. Victorian wicker furniture is Geraldine Robertson's specialty, and she has some wonderful pieces on display. We saw a 1920's baby buggy, $57; a long gently sloped day bed, $130; a magazine rack, $26; and a marvelous bridge lamp with a huge shade trimmed with hanging fringe, $150.

Her shop also has some nice extras such as patterned and pressed glass; a bed warmer from the 1700's; a brass and cast iron drug store scale; and a handsome heavy black cast iron garden bench.

Starting down the other side of the Hopewell Antiques Center, the first shop is rented by Paul and Rose Jamieson. Here we saw a drop-leaf table, $250; a cherry dovetailed cradle, $110; and a wooden such as a nice selection of tin boxes. Our favorite was a black and white Schepp's cake box with a painting of Lotte on the front, $40.

It's New to Us

Number six is The Old Village Store of Quakertown, N.J., and they have displayed an unusually deep red jelly cupboard, $260; a blanket chest, $135; and a wonderful Victorian oak coat rack for the hall.

This shop has some elaborately carved tramp art, such as a picture frame, $28 or letter box, $35. We also admired a handsome tin chandelier, $135, which we knew was a reproduction because of the yellow tag (a policy used by all the shops at the Hopewell Antiques Center.)

Once Upon a Stove. Next in line is Once Upon a Stove, a shop with a huge old Columbian porcelainized cast iron charcoal stove centered and surrounded by lots of kitchenware. There are pottery mixing bowls, black cast iron fry pans, redware and yellowware, and some lovely glazed molds.

Most of the cookware dates from the late 1800's into the 1930's, and there are lots of accessories too, such as sifters, graters, measuring cups, and cookie cutters. We especially liked the old washboards and a pretty ironstone platter with a blue edging, $16.

Returning to the front desk we entered The Back Porch and were greeted by a collection of china, hisque and cloth dolls sitting on a bed that has been converted into a sofa. The bed comes with a fitted cushion, but it also has separate side rails if you wish to return it to its original state, $185.

This shop has a lot of small things worth collecting. There are wire rim glasses, old hat boxes, silver spoons, art glass, and wicker baskets.

A final collection at the Hopewell Antiques Center are the excellent prints selected by Graeme Keller. Two we especially noted were a framed page from the Nuremberg Chronicle printed in 1493, $135, and an unframed print of the Golden Fashions for November 1876, $12.50.

The Hopewell Antiques Center is above the Tomato Factory on Hamilton Avenue in Hopewell, and the eight shops-within-a-shop are open seven days a week from 10:30 until 5.

provisational theatre games and exercises in physical coordination. During rehearsals the children help create the script based on favorite children's stories, poems, songs, and games.

In the stagecraft sessions children make their own costumes and stage settings in preparation for their performances in the playgrounds and at the library the week of July 29. All children are encouraged to participate in all facets of production.

For the convenience of students and their parents who live several miles from Princeton, transportation from Princeton Junction, East Windsor, Trenton and other nearby communities will be coordinated.

To register for the remaining places in the program or for further information, contact Amie Brockway, 200 Hendrickson Drive, Princeton Junction. Telephone: 799-1689.

PRINCE

For Pete's Sake. This comedy stands of falls on whether one likes Barbra Streisand in the role she does best - or at least in the role the public likes to see her in the most...that of a loud-mouthed, pushy, gum-chewing scatter brain. Director Peter Yates has pulled out all the stops to keep the laughs going but the film lacks the comic freshness of 'What's Up Doc.' It resembles something punched out by a computer.

Barbra is married to a cab driver named Pete who really has little to say in the film. She sells plastic toilet dispensers by phone. When Pete needs $300 to invest in pork bellies so he can go back to college, Barbra borrows the money from a loan shark. Right! Pork bellies go down instead of up and the Mafia sets out to kill her.

As her debt increases, she gets involved in one illegal operation after another and a chance to plow through a series of slapstick situations. She gets sold into prostitution to a sweet little Jewish Madam, she falls through open manholes, crawls through sewers, gets chased by vicious German attack dogs in the subway, hangs from construction scaffolds, and leads a cattle stampede through the streets of Brooklyn. It's a one-woman show as Barbra does all the tricks and goes through all the action.

Michael Sarrazin is affable

as Pete and Estelle Parsons wastes her talent in a small part of a hitchy sister-in-law.

BRUNSWICK

The Exorcist. The long-awaited area showing of The Exorcist, based on the William Blatty best-selling novel about the bizarre Satanic possession of a young girl, opens this week at the Brunswick Theater.

The graphic horrors and meticulous depiction of the little girl's possession and the exorcism sequence that frees her is definitely not for the faint-of-heart or weak-of-stomach. It can be, for some, a mind-blowing experience. Definitely not for children. The film is rated R.

Blatty's story is based on an actual 1949 case of a 14-year old boy whose bizarre changes in personality disappeared after multiple performances of the Catholic ritual of exorcism.

The film horrors begin when a 12-year-old girl--stunningly portrayed by Linda Blair--interrupts her mother's cocktail party, curses a priest and urinates on the carpet. From there, her possession intensifies. Her voice takes on the voice of a man, the language and personality of the Devil, the barks and groans of an animal.

She lashes at the young Jesuit psychiatrist-priest with green vomit and shouts blasphemous crudities. In another gruesome scene, she masturbates with a crucifix. Finally, the child is released but only after the death of the two priests.

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS"

Still: In spite of the horrors, the film contains less visceral emotional moments of great power and conviction. Technically, "The Exorcist" is unerringly superb and the acting is faultless. Ellen Burstyn as the child's mother vainly trying to maintain her sanity under the bizarre happenings is outstanding, as is Jason Miller as the Jesuit priest and Max von Sydow as the older priest.

possibly by architect Charles Steadman, will be moved by the Historical Society from its present Alexander Street location to a new home around the bend on Basin Street.

The Township Zoning Board last Wednesday gave history precedence over the present and waived the municipality's window-area requirements so that the small-paned windows won't have to be replaced. The board also granted variances from lot area and width and the yard-height ratio.

LESTER REPORT ISSUED
Assesses Minority Hiring. A report prepared by Princeton University economics professor Richard A. Lester asserts that the affirmative action program under which the Federal Government is forcing universities to hire women and minorities is lowering the quality of faculties.

Dr. Lester, former dean of the faculty at the University wrote: "The whole affirmative action system by which it is determined whether a university is underutilizing women and blacks in tenured positions should not really apply in choosing a medieval historian. It is a statistical system that deals more with the hiring of typists, bricklayers or punch press operators." The report was published last week by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education.

Pointing to an estimate that there are no more than 3,500 black Ph.D.s in the country, Dr. Lester said that colleges and universities were "playing musical chairs" with the limited number of black faculty and that this practice was driving up salaries "well above those for whites with equivalent or better qualifications."

Dr. Lester, who lives at 32 Maclean Circle, recommended changing rather than dropping affirmative action policies, to take into proper consideration the limited supply of qualified people in these minority groups. The report said that more emphasis should be placed on increasing the pool of well prepared blacks and women with doctorates.

ratified a two-year agreement with the West Windsor-Plainsboro Clerical Association.

In matters pertaining to the high school, Walter Golden, Clerk of the Works, presented his monthly report on the progress of the construction. He reported that the various contractors are presently involved in corrective work in the various areas of the building and the site. Mr. Golden indicated that the progress of the construction has improved during the last month.

Dutch Neck Renovation. The Board was also informed by Dr. Haddon that the final plans and specifications for the renovation and addition to the Dutch Neck School have been submitted to the State Department of Education. Once approval is received from the State the bidding process will be initiated by the architect.

TWO ARE APPROVED
For Windsor School Posts. The West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School Board approved the appointments of two school administrators at its regular monthly meeting held last week at the Maurice Hawk School.

Mrs. Almedia Pace was named as principal of the Dutch Neck School and Donald Mannain was approved as assistant principal of the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School. Both appointments became effective on July 1.

Mrs. Pace has been serving as acting principal of the Dutch Neck School, since March 1. Prior to this, she had served as a sixth grade teacher at the Plainsboro School. Mr. Mannain, who currently serves as a guidance counselor at the high school, was formerly a guidance counselor at the Dutch Neck School.

In other personnel matters, the Board approved the reassignment of seven elementary teachers and the appointments of nine new teachers. The Board also approved the appointments of non-instructional personnel, adopted a new salary guide for bus drivers and non-instructional substitutes and

$25 FROM MINI-FETE
For Hospital. A "mini-fete" put on by seven Princeton children has increased the endowment of the Medical Center at Princeton by $25. The youngsters—Georgie Krause, Drue Schreyer, Susie Davidson, Carol Tate and Julie, Babbie, and Jack Stephenson, all ages eight and nine—held the mini-fete in the Krause's yard on Library Place. Inspired by the "Honey of a Fete" a few weeks before, the children organized and ran a basketball hoop game, fish pond, and other games. They also sold popcorn, lemonade, and cookies. Jessica Krause was Fortune Teller.

Georgie Krause, Drue Schreyer, and Julie Stephenson acted as "chairpersons". Said Georgie, "We thought it would be fun, and would give something to the hospital for people who are sick."

The children specified that their gift go to the Pediatrics Department to buy something for patients there.

Amphitheatre Questioned. To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is the text of a letter sent to the Mercer County Board of Chosen Freeholders and Mayors of Mercer County Association: The proposed Historical Drama Association project in Mercer Central Park.

WILLIAM A. STUART
MAYOR

West Windsor Twp.

The current review of the Historical Drama Association project in Mercer Central Park is incomplete without consultation with the Board of Freeholders.

As is well known, the project would have a physical impact on West Windsor. There is a great probability that it will have a financial impact on West Windsor and the 12 other municipalities in the County.

Although the Park Commission is an autonomous body, its budget is part of the County Budget raised by taxes from all County residents. Any project that is likely to create financial obligations for taxpayers of Mercer County deserves the full critical public review of the Freeholders. Any other approach would not be responsible.

We urge the Freeholders to obtain detailed information from the Park Commission and the Historical Drama Association concerning the financing of this project, and to present it at the regular meeting of the Board. Areas of concern include:

- 1) Annual maintenance and policing costs. These tasks are the responsibility of the Park Commission under the Green Acres laws. What increase in staff and equipment is required at what cost?
- 2) Maintenance and protection of the amphitheatre. What is the cost?
- 3) Capital construction cost. If this cost is to be carried by the Historical Drama Association, what obligations does the County assume if the Historical Drama is not successful?

4) Financial projections of the Historical Drama Association: The projected expenses and revenue of the private organization should be carefully examined to determine how they relate to the financial interest of the County.

5) Legal relationship of Historical Drama Association to the County. Many Park Commission facilities have concession arrangements. The type of arrangement that is worked out with the Historical Drama should be spelled out before any decision is made.

6) Findings of off-site improvements. The closing of South Post Road cannot take place if the hazardous bottleneck at Old Trenton Road and Edinburg Road is not rebuilt. Even without the Amphitheatre, this is essential before the lake construction can be completed.

The details, including amount and timing of the capital budget for this project should be made available. All other potential road improvements needed if the Amphitheatre is approved should be anticipated. If this type of road improvement is given a higher priority, what improvements will be given a lower priority?

West Windsor has very special reasons for opposing the location of the amphitheatre—noise, congestion, inadequate roads, lack of environmental review, incompatibility with its character and the character of Mercer Central Park.

All the other municipalities have a financial stake in this venture. We invite the Freeholders and the members of municipal governing bodies to join us in calling for a study of the financial implications of the Historical Drama Borough Council concerning the new Princeton Buses.

"Dirty Tricks" Publications. To the Editor of Town Topics: Freedom of speech and the press are American rights, but they require virtually absolute responsibility on the part of persons who make use of them.

Recently there has been circulated in Princeton a single printed sheet of information pertaining to the school bond referendum and at least nine different folders titled "Princeton's Informative Newspaper - The Resounder," having to do with planning changes in the Borough's central business district. I disagree with statements made in these publications.

The school issue material is signed by the "Princeton Taxpayers' Council." The folder on the CBD does not reveal its origin. It seems to me that the authors and sponsors of these publications should provide a name, address or other identification to which I can respond and challenge the published statements.

Although I first read "Resounder" on a local bulletin board, lately it has been deposited on my outer doorstep. The school issue sheet was pushed under my doorway and thus invaded my privacy.

I feel these deeds are a minor variety of "dirty tricks" not particularly in keeping with Princeton's tradition of open discussion of any and all issues of a public nature.

Editor's Note: "The Resounder" is put out by Olga Hall, Spring Street and Stuart Surick, 27 Witherspoon St. The leaflet on the school bond issue, distributed by "Princeton Taxpayer's Council," had as two of its principal backers, former Borough Councilmen Charles Cornforth and Robert Hendry.

Buses Need Council's Support. To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is a copy of a letter which I wrote to the

I am writing on behalf of the new Princeton Loop A and Loop B buses. I found from talking with an older resident of my community that several of the older residents do not know about the bus and if they do, they don't know where to catch it, and the schedules.

Also some of the residents who do know about the bus are not able to walk to the stops and don't understand that they can flag the bus down almost anywhere on Witherspoon Street. A concerted effort should be made to reach all the elderly people in the Princeton Area.

Perhaps, we forgot that not everyone is able to read Town Topics or goes to the library where there is information. Furthermore, people don't understand that the new orange buses are half the price of the other new little Tele-Bus.

I would also like to say that this is a bad season to be running a trial test of the buses. It's summer.

People, like myself, who would use the bus in the winter are now riding their bicycles or walking. Also many of the University students and residents of Princeton are away.

Don't let the bus go. It is needed and appreciated. It is still a new thing. Wait until you start getting negative about it.

I bet there are people who are so used to the fact that there isn't a bus that they often forget to take it. I am still surprised when I see one go down Witherspoon Street.

School Vote Disappointing. To the Editor of Town Topics: As a teacher and a resident of Princeton, I am very disappointed in the defeat of the recent bond issue for renovations of Princeton High School.

For weeks prior to the vote, school board members, ad-

Administrators, faculty, students and the PTO attempted to inform the citizens of Princeton about the existing space problems of the high school. The PTO sponsored a guided tour of the facilities and not one community member attended.

The entire school community spent months researching, planning and explaining the bond issue and its ramifications. Throughout this period, few suggestions were received from the public and few reservations were voiced.

I do not mean to infer that the vote defeating the bond issue was a misinformed or misdirected one...only that it might have been avoided had the proper balance of school and community input been achieved in the planning process.

It is my sincere hope that Princeton residents will share their thoughts and concerns about the proposed renovations with the school community to achieve a proposal which is acceptable to Princeton voters.

Don't Penalize Good Dogs.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Quoting an eminent sociologist on the subject of dog control (Town Topics, June 27) makes it sound as if his remarks should be the answer to the problem. Dr. Levy is very fortunate in having an adequate, enclosed space for his magnificent animals which, if all five were allowed to run free, would certainly cause some consternation.

But I think some consideration should be shown to those people who may love their dogs as much as Dr. Levy does, and who perhaps need them more. There are many elderly or infirm people who keep a dog for companionship and, increasingly, for protection, but who cannot provide exercise space and cannot take the animal out on a leash.

They would simply have to give it up if the leash law were enacted and this is not fair. (Parenthetically, dogs kept confined become incessant barkers, and this might annoy non-dog lovers more than seeing a dog ambling down the street.)

By all means, let us get the bad dogs off the streets, by penalizing their irresponsible owners, by enforcing the measures laid down against vicious and annoying dogs, and let us leave at peace the law-abiding dogs whose presence on the streets adds a needed touch of sanity to our world.

Township Site-Plan Law Model for Other Towns

Princeton takes site-plan review more or less for granted these days ("They can't put that parking lot next to my house without some kind of screen!")

But other communities across the nation are still fumbling toward ways of regulating eye-sore planning, and they've just received solid, concrete help from a national committee of architects whose chairman, Hans K. Sander, was the architect of Princeton Township's own site-plan review ordinance. Mr. Sander is chairman of the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

"Design Review Boards: A Handbook for Communities," is already a best-seller. At $6.25, it sold 500 copies at the recent Washington convention of the American Institute of Architects. It is the work of a sub-committee, chaired by Mr. Sander, of the AIA's Committee on Design.

Mr. Sander vividly recalls his own experience when, as chairman of the now-disbanded Township Planning Board, he took on Bamberger's, the A & P and the Princeton Shopping Center. It was in the late 1960s. Bamberger's wanted to expand, and the A & P wanted to put up a new building in the northeast corner of the Shopping Center.

Zoning Disaster. "All that traffic would have been sluiced through a small -- well, a hole, really," he remembers. "there was no screening to protect the houses on the east side of the Center. It was a disaster. And of course, complied with all the zoning laws."

"Non-residential units establish the character of the town," Mr. Sander observes, "and the town has a clear responsibility here -- to the people who live in the town."

A Start With Art, taught by Elizabeth Monath, will give total beginners immediate involvement in paint and a chance to explore a variety of other media. The class will emphasize individual expression and discovery of the student's creative talents. This class will be held on Tuesday and Thursday from 1-3 p.m.

A trial, three-year site-plan ordinance was passed in 1967, with provisions to regulate the flow of traffic, the relation of buildings to the environment, lighting, screening and so forth. George Warnecke, owner of the Shopping Center, promptly took the Township to court. But the pioneering site-plan review ordinance was upheld by the court in the early 1970s and that same year, the Township made its trial ordinance permanent.

The Township's ordinance has been a model for New Jersey. The new Handbook's guidelines are broader and the measures it proposes differ in some ways from the Township's but the stamp of that 1967-70 ordinance is clear, as is the influence of Mr. Sander.

As the Handbook points out, and as it has become increasingly evident in Princeton, there is a "swelling level of public consciousness on questions of environment. Not just 'dirty water and bad air,' as the Handbook phrases it, but concerns about man-made structures and the way they affect people's lives."

Township Model. Model ordinances suggested by the Handbook bear similarities to the Township's and to the one adopted subsequently by the Borough. Like Princeton's, the suggested ordinances are free-standing; that is, they aren't just amendments to the zoning ordinance.

Also, they propose Design Review Committees of experts in architecture, urban design, landscape architecture. The Township's ordinance has this feature, the Borough's present one does not. A joint ordinance, still to be adopted, also provides for a committee of experts.

Princeton doesn't have some of the provisions in suggested model ordinances.

For example, the Handbook's model proposes that an applicant be given guidelines in writing. Also, the model ordinance says that if a Design Review Board disapproves of a project, the developer has a right to be given, in writing, the conditions under which the board would accept the project.

It is also suggested that an applicant who thinks some of the people on the board might not be fair, can ask to have those members removed for a particular case.

For Princeton. The joint ordinance, designed to serve both Borough and Township has been introduced in the Township, but not yet passed. It has yet to be introduced by Borough Council.

As Mr. Sander points out, the Borough has a much smaller scale than the Township, with small buildings being converted from one small use to another, quite different from the Township's large-scale developments. The new ordinance must, therefore, be flexible enough to accommodate these two aspects of the Princeton community.

"An ordinance like this doesn't really require more of an applicant than he would have to provide anyway," Mr. Sander comments. "An architect would supply most of the requirements, anyway. But it does put a demand on the developer who is skimping on a fringe architect, and is just barely complying with regulations. So -- it raises the minimum quality of site planning, but doesn't touch the upper limits of quality at all."

The Handbook was three years in preparation. The committee, in 1968, surveyed and sent questionnaires to 221 existing review boards and based the study on more than 100 boards that replied to the questionnaire.

BICYCLE RULES LISTED

Safety Program Continues. The second annual bicycle registration day in West Windsor has brought the total number of registered bicycles in the Township to 450. Registration is intended to serve as an aid to proper identification of a stolen bicycle so that it can be returned to its proper owner. It can also lead to quick identification of cyclists in the event of an accident.

Safety was stressed at the time of registration, both in maintaining a safe bicycle and in observing proper rules of the road. Each bicycle was inspected by Sgt. Wauters of the West Windsor Police Department or Murray Bornstein and Bob Bell of the Bicycle Committee. The Bicycle Committee has issued a maintenance pamphlet which was distributed to all registrants. Reflector tape, previously donated by Nassau Savings & Loan Association, was provided for each bicycle.

Other members of the Bicycle Committee who worked on the program were Teena Cahill and Art Miller. Volunteers from the community included Jack Bornstein, Sevy Phalangas and Mary Ellen Wadman.

Residents who have not registered their bicycles can do so at the Township police at the Headquarters Building on Village Road West in Dutch Neck.

In New Jersey bicycles are subject to the same laws of the roads as automobiles, according to the Bicycle Committee. Therefore, all bicycles which are ridden at night are required to have headlights and tail lights. A horn or bell is also required on each bicycle.

SPORTS FANS!

KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

How about this... Did you know there was once a baseball manager who led two different teams one season and wound up in last place with both of them—and this happened to the man many say was the greatest manager of all-time—John McGraw! In 1902, McGraw was manager of the Baltimore Orioles of the American League. When he left that team in July it was in last place... Next Day he became manager of the Giants of the National League and then they finished last!... That proves again that a man can have several failures in life, and still turn out to be a big success.

The strangest horse race ever seen happened in Australia on Oct. 10, 1903, when three horses, High Flyer, Loch Lochie and Bardini finished in a triple tie for first—and then they re-ran the race and they finished in a triple tie for first again!... The odds are enormous against any triple dead heat, but for that to happen twice in a row defies any odds.

Did you know a big league baseball team once made 11 runs in one inning on only one hit!... It happened in a game between the Chicago White Sox and Kansas City in 1959... The White Sox got one hit-batsman, received 10 walks, there were three errors, a sacrifice, a stolen base, and one hit!

I bet you didn't know that we have an insurance policy that would have helped Lou Gehrig. We have all sorts of insurance, for people who think they can't buy insurance because of their health.

In Princeton

THREE TEAMS TIED
In Business Softball. At the half-way point in the season, the penant race in the Princeton Business Softball League remains tight, with Educational Testing Service and Cities Service Research continuing towards what promises to be a momentous end of the season clash. Jack Sheldon's perfect form on the mound coupled with his two safeties, two sacrifices, and five RBIs at the plate led Cities Service to a 10-6 victory over RCA(B). Charlie Gandy contributed three more hits for Cities out of four times at bat.

Educational Testing Service bounced back from last week's surprise loss to clout RCA(A), 15-5. Pete Simonelli led the strong ETS attack with a homer in a 3-for-4 evening, while John Barone went 5-for-5, Dave Heath 4-for-4, and Nick Chantese 3-for-3.

McGraw Hill maintained its tie for first place with ETS and Cities Service by squeaking by Princeton Day School in the last half of the last inning, 9-8. Dave Sands put in a perfect night at the plate with a homer and 4 RBIs. Teammate Bruce Beloven contributed two hits in three trips to the plate. Ang Vasti was the winning pitcher.

United Jersey Banks won its fourth game of the season on the 4-for-4 hitting of Harry Gooding, defeating Ingersoll Rand, 14-5. UJB had an 18-hit attack, and Gooding had a homer as well as 4 RBIs. Winning pitcher Jeff Morris helped his own cause with a 3-for-4 hitting night.

North American Phillips Lighting bombed National Computer Analysts, 18-1, on two homers and four RBIs by Kevin Mullins. Mount Vernon Washington also hit a four-bagger for the victors.

All-Star Game July 11. Capped by Tim Kearn's three-run homerun, the First National Bank of Princeton downed American Cyanamid, 8-2. Homeruns were the name of the game as Wes Cawley and Dave Tessein matched each other with back-to-back homers and 2-for-3 hitting efforts. Lenny DiPaolo completed the evening for First National of Princeton with its final home run.

Firmenich put together a tremendous hitting effort led off by Tom Hummer's 4-for-4 night at the plate with two homers to swamp ERC, 21-8. Bill Faulkner and Tom Callaghan both had four safeties for five times at bat, while Bob Pagano went 3-for-4. Losing pitcher Bob Heinz produced three hits and a homer for ERC.

Forrestal and Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Labs game was rained out, and has been postponed until August 5. The annual All-Star Game will take place at RCA's field at the Sarnoff Research center at 6 on July 11.

At the end of the ninth week of play the standings are:

GATES PREVAILS AGAIN

In Springdale Golf. One scene Saturday told the story: on the veranda of the clubhouse at the Springdale Golf Club was Jack Mudge, wife at his side, drink in hand, and back to the golf course. Two hundred yards off, on the first fairway, was Mosey Gates. He had just won an unprecedented third straight Springdale championship, defeating Mudge soundly, 7 and 6. Gates and his wife were out for another round in the mid-afternoon sun.

"I basically didn't putt too well," said Mudge, on the veranda. "If I had you might have been just in time to see the finishing holes." But the outs, including many five and six-footers, did not drop, and Mudge's first try in the championship round at Springdale Golf Club came to an unceremonious end after 30 of the scheduled 36 holes of match play.

"I won the first and second holes," said Mudge softly. "But, it was downhill from there."

Gates, who had had difficulty the week before in his match against Jack Sweeney, winning only after the 20th hole of play, appeared in trouble again early Saturday in the championship match. Mudge birdied the 296-yard, par four first hole, his only birdie of the day, and then went two-up when Gates bogeyed the par two second hole.

But it was downhill from there. Gates recaptured a hole on the fourth, and another on the sixth to even the match. He won the seventh with a bogey and then picked up the first of his three birdies on the par five, 526-yard eighth to move two up.

First Round 77. The defending champion extended his lead to four holes after the first 18 holes of play, in which he shot a 77 compared to Mudge's 81.

In the afternoon round, Gates took the first and third holes, to be six-up, and then appeared to be in trouble on the fourth, a par four, lying two off the green. He sunk his chip shot, however, for a birdie, and went ahead 7 and 14 to play.

After two consecutive bogeys, Gates' lead was reduced to 5 and 12. He then countered with two more bogeys, but these were enough to win the holes, as Mudge took double bogeys on both the seventh and eighth. Playing before about 20 spectators, the twosome then parred the next four holes, leaving Mudge seven down with only six to play.

That brought Gates and his wife back to the first tee, and Mudge and his wife to the 19th hole. Gates took three putts on only one green. He was down in one putt eight times.

Other Winners. In the first flight final match Don Drescher defeated Roland Smith, 2 and 1. Arne Booth defeated Dick Liebler, 4 and 2, in the second flight. The fourth flight winner was Jim Schwartz, a 3 and 1 victor over Kline Fulmer.

The third flight match between Bob McCarthy and Peter Budd will be played on Friday.

TENNIS ON THE ROAD

Ruben Advances. Advanced junior players of the Princeton Community Tennis Program spent last week traveling to various competitions. At stake for some were possible 1974 rankings.

Representing Princeton in the Middle States Boys 14 - Championships at Wayne, Pa., were Jim Parmele, Nick Donath, Chuck Kohli, Flip Ruben, Alan Aronovic, Simeon Hutner, Chuck Kohli, Alan Aronovic and Jim Parmele, and Ruben seeded 12th, moved successfully into the third round.

Other boys and girls to travel to area tournaments last week were Jeff Lyle, Keith Usiskin and Alex Davidson to the Pennsylvania State Junior Boys 18 and 16. Both Jeff and Alex reached the semi-finals which qualifies them for the national event.

Jennifer Chandler, Linda Littell, Holly Burks and Vera Jessor traveled to Wilmington for the Middle States Girls 14 and 12 Championship. Kathy Burks, Natalie Usiskin and Holly Burks competed in the Middle States Girls Grass Court Championships. Doug Atkin and Mark Goodman planned to vie in the 12 and under Middle States Championships at Willingboro.

This week local juniors are playing in the Princeton Open presently in progress at the University Courts. Added competition is expected from the entry of 14 Nigerian players who have been visiting in Princeton this week.

The final rounds of the Princeton Open are expected to be held on Friday. For specific details, check the bulletin board of the University's pagoda courts later in the week.

WEST WINDSOR WINS 3

In Babe Ruth Play, West Windsor raised its record to 9-1, and strengthened its hold on first place in the Mercer County Senior Babe Ruth League last week, with three victories. The league leaders received strong pitching performances from Joe Czeslowski, Jim Wetterling and Shawn Fenski.

Jacobelli Builders took an early lead before West Windsor pulled out a 5-4 win. A triple by Tom Murphy and a double by Don Hutchinson produced three runs to narrow the gap for West Windsor. Then, in the bottom of the sixth inning, Jeff Drummond singled to tie the game and Wetterling drove in the winning run with a single. Czeslowski gave up only four hits.

West Windsor knocked off the Hamilton PAL easily, 10-3. Successive singles by Mike and Don Hutchinson, Drummond and Murphy gave Twin W a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Murphy tripled with the bases loaded in the second to turn the game into an early rout.

Lawrence VFW provided the toughest competition of the week. West Windsor was trailing, 2-0, in the bottom of the sixth inning when Murphy slashed his third triple of the week to tie the score. In the eighth inning Lawrence walked Don Hutchinson and Dave Duncan. Then the hot-hitting Murphy singled in the winning run. Fenski scattered seven singles and struck out 10 over the eight innings.

The frequency of injuries occurring in athletic activities can be reduced, according to experts. Leaving a game before one is overfatigued can be taught as a safe and correct form of participation. Learning to fall without injury is a desirable skill in all sports, but also in everyday life. Use of good safe equipment, staying within the limits of one's ability; these are also good for rules for the exercising person, and especially for those who try to do all their exercising on the weekend.

FIRST LOSS FOR IVY INN
And PIASC in Softball. In Princeton Recreation Adult Softball League action last week, Conte-Staats, Sannino's, and Teague & Hinds each recorded two victories, while Ivy Inn and Princeton Italian American Sportsmen Club both lost first games of the season. The Twelve-team, two-division league is at the half-way mark in the schedule.

Conte-Staats, last year's playoff champs, rolled right along beating Center Sports, 7-2, and Sports 'N Things, 10-2. Against Center Sports, Conte-Staats scored four times in the first inning. Doug Ruhlman honored for the winners, while Brendon Layton added a homer for the Center Sports Club. Conte-Staats sailed past Sports 'N Things as all of the winners' starters had at least one hit. Jack Roberts connected for three.

Sannino's, a team which got off to a very slow start, defeated Grover's Taxi, 11-8, and Andy's Tavern, 9-5. Kemp Gregory's four hits and a homerun by Bill McQuade led the way against Grover's. The game also saw all Sannino's starters hit safely.

For the losers, Dave Ciaghorn had three hits, including a homer. In the victory over Andy's, Bruce Sandvick had three singles, while McQuade added two doubles and a triple.

Ivy's First Loss. Teague & Hinds was impressive in handing Ivy its first setback, 10-2, and defeating Grover's Taxi, 13-5. The Icemen sent six men across the plate in the first inning against the Ivy. Bucky Melvin collected four hits for the evening and Tupper Cullum homered.

For Ivy, John Armonia hit a two run homer. Teague's pounded out 19 hits in its win over Grover's. Melvin again had four hits, one a round-tripper. Dick Embly homered for the losers.

In other league action, the Petrone brothers' hitting enabled Center Sports to hand P.I.A.S.C. its initial loss of the season. Jamie had three hits, while Jack added a home run. The final score was 6-2.

Ivy Inn defeated winless P.M.C., 15-4. George McVaugh had three hits for the Barmen, while Bob Klek homered. Kevin Tylus had three safeties for the losers.

P.M.C. also had a rough night with Andy's Tavern. The game produced 26 hits by Andy's, 22 by the Medical Center. In the 20-9 slugfest, Al Kendall had four hits.

Phox's set back Tiger Auto, 14-10. For the victors, Bill Alexander and Dave Black each stroked three hits, while both added homers. For Tiger, Dick Kopliner and Jim McKee also had four-baggers.

Sports 'N Things also beat Tiger Auto, 8-2, as Bruce Daniels homered for the winners. Kopliner added three hits to the Tiger attack.

P.I.A.S.C. easily got past Phox's, 14-3. The Italians had all starters collect at least one hit. Jim Reese had a three-for-three game. For the losers, Daryl Boone had four hits.

FIRST PLACE JAMMED
In PYBA Little League. Three teams—Post 76, IASC and Engine Co. 1—are all tied for first place with 4-1 records after action last week in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association Little League.

IASC helped create the log jam with a come-from-behind 6-4 win over Post 76. Norman Lewis was the winning pitcher and Tom Harner and Bill Jams provided the offense with two hits each. Tony Pitman had two hits including a double for the losers.

Engine Co. 1 also had to come from behind, scoring eight runs in the top of the sixth to defeat Engine No. 3, 12-7. Hurler Randy Rose got help from Judd Petrone and Paul Heinzel who each had three hits including a homer for Petrone and a triple for Heinzel and from Peter Sharpless who stroked a three-run homer.

Mark Miller batted 2-for-3 including a double and Dan Kirton belted a two-run homer as the losers had built a 7-4 lead.

UAW 380 engineered still another comeback victory as it sent seven runs across in the fifth, after having scored five in the first, to outlast the Elks, 12-11. The Elks scored all their runs in the first three innings. After that, reliefer Leroy Hunninghake faced only 10 batters and pitched hitless ball the last three innings.

Darnell Burford smashed a homer, James Noble tripled and Paul Tamasi, Billy Snead and Todd Kuhn all doubled for UAW. Paul Sober and Chris Wallace led the losers with two hits and three runs each.

Roma Eterna scored its first victory, routing Eagles, 22-13. John Kendall got the win and Gabe Sasso homered for the victors. Mark Adams had a double and triple for the Eagles.

DART SWINGER HARDTOP: ONLY THE DODGE BOYS HAVE SO MANY SMALL HARDTOPS!

- A six-cylinder Dodge Dart Swinger with an automatic transmission got 23.6 mpg. That was better gas mileage than that of both the Chevrolet Nova and Ford Maverick six-cylinder cars equipped with standard transmissions.
  - All 1974 Dodge Darts have the Electronic Ignition System standard. No points or condenser (to wear out or get wet). Fewer tune-ups.
  - Ask a friend about his Dodge Dart. Dart owners are our "best reference." (With over a million and a half satisfied Dart owners, you've got to have a friend who owns one!)
- Mileage and comparison data are from the light-city-traffic phase of USAC's "Miles-per-gallon Showdown." The light-city-traffic phase of the test covered a distance of 108 miles at an average speed of 25 mph. For complete results of this USAC test, visit our showroom. 3 WINS IN 2 DAYS
 For Post 76. The season is far from over for Princeton Post 76 in the Mercer County Legion Baseball League. Propelled by strong pitching performances by John Mooney, who won both games Saturday in a double header against North Trenton, and by PHS sophomore Daryl MacPherson who six-hit Lawrence Post 414, Sunday, for a 1-0 victory, the Princeton entry has climbed to within one point of Hopewell 339.

Hopewell, former leader in the northern division, fell victim to Hamilton Post 31, 11-5, and dropped to third place with a 7-4-1 record and 15 points. Princeton is 7-9 and 14 points. Streaking Ewing Post 314, the defending league champion, took over first place in the division with a 9-6-2 record, followed by Lawrence 414, which is 8-4. In the Southern Division it is a two-team race between Hamilton Pal 313 (13-2) and Three seasons 31 (12-2).

Against Lawrence, Princeton Post 76 scored the game's only run in the sixth when Pete Waiblinger singled, stole second, went to third on a throwing error and came home on Mooney's single.

McPherson bested Kirk Louderback, the outstanding pitcher for the Lawrence High Cardinals this spring, who gave up only four hits to Post 76. Bob Zinsmeister and George Reynolds had the other two. Louderback, who is finding the going a lot tougher in Legion play, saw his record dip to 1-4.

Mooney, former PHS pitcher for the past three years who won only two for the Little Tigers this spring, increased his record to 5-1 at the expense of the cellar-dwelling Princeton North Post 458. Mooney pitched the final inning and a third to get credit for a 5-4 in the nightcap which his team won by pushing a single run across in the eighth inning. Reynolds and Don Seitz each had two hits for Post 76, one of Reynolds' a double.

In the first game, Post 76 scored three in the second and added five more in the third to coast to a 13-2 win. In the six innings he worked, Mooney fanned five, walked one and gave up four hits. Zinsmeister had two of the 11 hits yielded by four Trenton hurlers and Monney added a triple. Trenton was guilty of five errors.

TIGER GARAGE ON TOP
 In PYBA Babe Ruth Loop. Since losing its first game in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association Babe Ruth League, Tiger Garage has won its next three to take over first place in the four-team league with a 3-1 mark.

Tiger Garage jumped on Princeton Bank and Trust last week for eight runs in the first two innings and then held on to win, 8-6. Tony Opperman got the win but he needed help from Paul Soderman as the losers scored three in the fifth and were threatening.

Scott Thompson led Tiger Garage with two hits and four RBIs. John Miller batted in two more runs. For the losers, Keith Wadsworth and Seth Sanders each had two hits, Wadsworth driving in three runs.

Tiger next defeated Thorne's Pharmacy, 11-4, for its third win. Once again, Thompson with four hits and two runs batted in led the attack, while Soderman chipped in with three and Miller with two more. Paul Bruschi scored two runs. Winning pitcher Dave Robinson faltered only in the last two innings when the Pharmacy scored all its runs. A pair of doubles by Dave Shillaber and two singles by Mark Lovering accounted for four of the losers' six hits. Bernie Noble contributed a double in the losing cause.

John Rosenthal had two hits and Dave Wilson and Tom Hagadorn each batted in a run to lead PBA to its first victory, a 5-1 decision over Thorne's. Winning pitcher Dana Nini limited Thorne's to a pair of hits—singles by Bob Cooke and Noble.

Princeton Bank and Trust outlasted PBA, 10-9, to even its record at 2-2. Keith Phox got the win. Sanders collected three hits for the Bank and Wadsworth helped to keep his team in the lead with his timely hitting.

MONEY STILL NEEDED
 By Flight Two. Even though it suspended operations last October, the youth drop-in center called Flight Two is still in need of money to meet about $600 in obligations. The nearly defunct organization hopes to raise some of that money through a dance being held Wednesday, July 10 at 8 in Trinity Church. Entertainment will be by the Fordham Road Blues Band. Admission is $1. Other contributions would be appreciated.

Flight Two's board of trustees has remained intact to pay the bills and maintain the organization's nonprofit status, according to the board chairman, the Rev. David McAlpin.

For information about the dance call Palmer Uhl, 452-2288. For information about Flight Two, call Peg or Dave Schlichting, 924-6828.

150 OPENINGS LISTED
 At Professional Roster. Women who think Princeton is a dead job market in the summer may be missing out on some excellent opportunities, according to a statement from the Professional Roster, which serves as a clearinghouse for professional level jobs open to women in this area. The Roster currently has approximately 150 employment opportunities listed.

The Roster office will be open all summer from 9:30 to noon, weekdays, on the second floor of Stevenson Hall at 83 Prospect Street. Call 921-9561 for information.

Founded in 1968, the Roster is a nonprofit organization which requires no job fee. Any women seeking part-time, fulltime, or free-lance work, is invited to register with the office. Career counseling is also available for women returning to the job market after raising families or for those changing careers.

The Roster also offers, as a free service to employers, information on qualified job applicants in many fields.

Carolyn Wilson and Elizabeth Ranney are co-directors of the Roster.

ADAM SMITH REDFACED
Caught in Oil Con. Imagine Ralph Nader getting stung on the purchase of a used Corvair. Or Millicent Fenwick being taken for a ride by a basement waterproofing company. Well, the name of "Adam Smith" came into the news last week, and the pseudonymous Princeton author was apparently caught in that kind of embarrassing circumstance.

Adam Smith, otherwise known as George J. W. Goodman of 141 Fairway Drive, the author of "The Money Game" and "Supermoney," was one of 2,000 high rollers listed as investors in the bankrupt Home-Stake Production Company. The firm allegedly inflated estimates of its oil discoveries, and lured more investors into the fold by paying back early backers at a high rate of return. At one point Home-Stake supposedly paid a farmer to paint his irrigation pipes orange, so that investors could be shown a "productive" oil field.

Mr. Goodman, who was quoted as saying that his own investment was "too complicated" to calculate, joined company with investors like Jack Benny, $300,000; Liza Minelli, $231,000; Walter Mathau, $200,000; and Andy Williams, $538,000. In all, the phony venture attracted more than $100 million in capital.

"I'm sure this is not the last fraud in the oil business," Mr. Goodman was quoted as saying. The man who made his mark as a Wall Street expert said that the scheme looked especially promising because some of the operations were legitimate. Several oil-producing wells were drilled in Venezuela.

Mr. Goodman was reported to have invested his money in the Venezuela operations, and was hopeful that he might not lose all his investment.

"When investments are endorsed by certified accountants and passed on by ranked law firms, and they then turn out to be fraud, there's no rational protection for any investor," Mr. Goodman told reporters.

...TO WASHINGTON
Response Analysis Opens Branch. Response Analysis Corporation has opened a Washington office in order to provide closer liaison with clients located in the area. Reuben Cohen, executive vice-president, will serve as director of the office. Mr. Cohen, who will divide his time between Washington and Princeton, will also continue to serve Response Analysis as chief statistician. The new office will be located at 1526 18th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

The volume of work conducted for clients in the Washington area is the prime reason for the new office, according to RAC officers. Located close to Dupont Circle, the office will provide on-the-spot service not previously available. A number of staff members who have been commuting to Washington will now have office staff and secretarial facilities in the metropolitan area. Some project development and direction will also be centered in the new office.

Richard W. Knitter, a new member of the Response Analysis staff, will be based at the Washington office as a Research Associate, with responsibilities in both marketing and project direction. He was previously employed by Applied Management Sciences and the American Research Bureau of Control Data Corporation. In both organizations, he conducted survey research for private corporations and government agencies.

"THE HOLLY FIELD" IS AVAILABLE

One of the loveliest spots in all Princeton AND one of the finest areas AND one of the most convenient locations (actually within walking distance of Nassau St.)—this is "The Holly Field", which we proudly offer to a discriminating buyer or builder. Approximately ten acres (more available, less would be considered) of high fields, hollies, handsome hardwoods and an evergreen forest which could be profitably thinned, the land slopes down to a veritable wildlife sanctuary traversed by a pretty winding brook. Divided between 1½ and 2 acre zoning. "The Holly Field" is a natural for an imaginative, distinctive cluster development. Further information upon request.

BARGAIN HUNTING?

THE BEST BUY IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD is now even better! Young family home, young family area near schools. Big rooms, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, rec room, and lots more! Good trees.

Join the Establishment

In one of the nicest older sections of the township, close to the Institute for Advanced Study and the Graduate College. Here on a pretty, quiet side street, is a welcoming Dutch colonial. Built when slate roofs and plaster walls were everyday building materials, it offers warmth, comfort and flexibility.

Pretty living room with fireplace and adjoining solarium, excellent dining room with chair rail, downstairs bedroom and full bath, convenient kitchen. Upstairs, four bedrooms and two baths. Also walk up attic with finished room, cedar closet and extensive storage.

The lot is lovely with old shade and fruit trees, stone terraces, established landscaping and pachysandra plantings for easy ground care. A perfect family home in a perfectly delightful section of town! New on the market at $99,500

STONYBROOK HOMESITE

The buffalo may not roam on this high meadowland, nor wander down to the wide brook to drink, but you can be sure the deer and other wildlife do! Equally enjoyable for people is this lovely pastoral setting—almost 20 acres in a particularly desirable estate area. It has various building possibilities to offer, but there is one spot which looks down through the trees to the running brook that would make a heavenly homesite for someone who wants something special. Adding the practical to the pastoral, the land is only 3½ miles from Palmer Square. Please call us for further details.

Did you know that our cluster house costs less per square foot?

Our cluster house gives you more actual living space and more modern living conveniences than a lot of single homes. For a lot less money. Hard to believe? It's even harder when you see the basement. It's big.

Did you ever think of an entry court as an outdoor room?

That's the way we want you to think of ours. It's large enough for small dinner parties. And private enough to have fun without disturbing your neighbors.

Would you like to put together your own floor plan?

Our five floor plans make it easy to think you're getting a custom house. All our plans are different and they all have good one-floor traffic flow. You can pick a plan with two or three bedrooms. With one or two baths. And with a fireplace or without a fireplace.

Is central air conditioning a must?

We consider anything that makes your living more enjoyable a must. That includes central air conditioning. A kitchen complete with self-cleaning range and range hood, refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher and disposal. And more. Baths with shiny ceramic tile around the tub and shower, and a handsome vanette. And lots and lots of closet space.

Would you like a house in the center of everything?

Our cluster houses are within reach of everything. Lighted bicycle paths, play areas and a planned swimming pool are right outside your door. The beautiful old restored houses and shops of Mount Holly are only four blocks away. And schools and good shopping centers within walking distance.

The cluster house. It measures up and beyond.

Directions: I-295 to 541 Exit or New Jersey Turnpike to Exit 5 (Mount Holly 541). 2 miles east on 41 to 4th traffic light, turn right on Levis Drive to Regent's Park. Samples open daily 11-7. Phone 609-261-1146.

WHERE ELSE...
BUT AT COUNTRY ANTIQUES CAN YOU FIND

An interesting lifetime collection of souvenir spoons, representative of world travel, as well as many from the United States. A real opportunity for collectors. Slowly more finds in American silver. A large early serving spoon from Boston, stays a few New Jersey. Millennium plates. Bringing up our controversial question did Edward Hicks copy this from the Peacable Kingdom, a customer asked, "Do you still have that peace plate?" What a neat appellation.

Two extremely early Wedgwood plates, both 19th century. One creamware, with single bundle base (perish the thought), the other exactly like one displayed on George Washington's dining room table at Rockingham, Rocky Hill. An 1850 calico mourning dove, and large early bonnet. A handwoven bedspread, dated by the fact that it was made on a narrow loom, therefore before 1850. It has the rare quality of three colors on natural, differing on both sides. A tiny collection of smallish oriental rugs (dwelling as we write this). A little tired, but mellow, clean, soft and satisfying to those who love orientals. For tussy folk, not. But who could complain when they realize the price?
